

The Trademark Lawyer Features the Arrival of Lawyers and Other Colleagues from Cooper & Dunham

The Trademark Lawyer featured the arrival of a group of professionals from the prominent intellectual property boutique Cooper & Dunham LLP, helping to solidify ARE Law's market position as a leading intellectual property law firm

The group includes veteran practitioners Christopher C. Dunham, John P. White and Gary J. Gershik, along with recent partner Darren Haber and several associates and scientific advisors.

The new group represents a wide range of clients from startups to Fortune 500 companies and brings particular expertise in biotechnology, chemistry and pharmaceutical arts. The group has extensive patent litigation experience in Federal Courts throughout the United States, as well as administrative proceedings before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, including Inter-Partes Review (IPR), Post-Grant Review (PGR) and appeals, and before patent offices outside of the United States, including opposition proceedings.

Read more.