

Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein Announces Arrival Of Anne Hassett

New York, NY, April 23, 2015 Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein, LLP, a prominent New York intellectual property boutique announced today that Anne Hassett has become Of Counsel to the firm.

Anne is a skilled advocate with 30 years' experience advising clients on complex business litigation. Her practice has concentrated on intellectual property involving a wide range of technologies, with a particular focus on pharmaceutical and medical device patent litigation, including Hatch-Waxman ANDA matters. She has handled all phases of complex litigation from inception through resolution, and has extensive jury trial experience.

Anne will be dividing her time between the firm and NYU School of Law, where she is a fulltime Research Scholar and Executive Director of the Engelberg Center on Innovation Law & Policy. Prior to assuming her position at NYU, Anne was a partner at Goodwin Procter LLP.