

Charles Macedo to Introduce Keynote Speaker at 2020 AUTM Annual Meeting

On Monday, March 9, partner Charles Macedo will introduce the opening plenary session and keynote speaker, astronaut Ellen Ochoa at the 2020 AUTM Annual Meeting in San Diego.

Ellen Ochoa is the first Hispanic woman to go in space. She's also an inventor and only the second female director of NASA's Johnson Space Center, where she led the human space flight enterprise for the nation from 2013 to 2018. Ochoa will discuss the resonant issues that have defined her historic career, what we can learn about change, innovation and the culture of teams from her time at the upper reaches of NASA's leadership, and what we can do to ensure that more women and minorities find a place within STEM fields.
