

In The Press: New York Foundation for the Arts Names New Board Chair

New York Foundation for the Arts has appointed Marc Jason, senior counsel at Amster, Rothstein & Ebenstein LLP, as chair of its board of trustees. Jason has been a member of NYFA's board since 2013, and he specializes in trademark and copyright litigation. He succeeds Judith K. Brodsky, founding director of Brodsky Center for Innovative Editions, as chair.

Full article: www.artnews.com/2019/07/01/breaking-art-industry-news-july-1-2019/